BOARD SANCTIONS A NEW CAMPAIGN

President Granville's Plan to Raise Large New Building Fund Meets
Approval of College Board. Dr.
Himes' Resignation Accepted.

The authorization of President Granville's new campaign to secure a fund of $130,000 for building improvements; the acceptance of the resignation of Dr. John A. Himes as head of the chair of English, and the election of two new professors were the principal items of business transacted at the mid-winter meeting of the board of trustees of Gettysburg College held in Harrisburg on Tuesday.

The resolution adopting Dr. Granville's plan for the financial campaign also provided for a request to the General Education Board (Rockefeller Foundation) to donate $32,500 or one-fourth of this $130,000 building fund. The money is to be divided as follows, for a new science hall, $75,000; for a new addition and repairs to Stevens Hall (Prep), $40,000; for an engineering shop, old chemical laboratory, $10,000; for an infirmary, $5,000.

The following were appointed a standing Building Committee of the Board, Dr. W. A. Granville, Dr. A. E. Wagner, George Neff Esq., H. C. Pickering and B. F. Blough. This committee will have power to put into execution the resolutions of the board regarding new buildings and improvements, to choose an architect or architects to plan and supervise the work of construction and to pass on all plans and sign or direct to be sign all contracts on behalf of the Board.

The following committee was appointed as the College Infirmary Committee, Dr. George B. Kunkel, Harrisburg; Dr. Charles Baum, Philadelphia; Dr. Fred Bloomhardt, Altoona. This committee shall co-operate with the college authorities in securing the funds for erecting and endowing an infirmary, and shall co-operate with the Building Committee in preparing and submitting the necessary plans for its erection. The following other duty is also imposed upon this committee: "To see that the style of architecture of Pennsylvania Hall be copied as far as practicable in any new college buildings, all to form part of a harmonious and comprehensive plan for future expansion."

Dr. Himes Resignation
The resignation of Dr. John Andrew Himes as Graeff Professor of English Literature and Political Science was accepted, with regret, to take effect with the end of the present scholastic year, in June 1914. The resolutions accepting Dr. Himes' resignation provided that the board "place on record our great appreciation of the high Christian character, scholarly ability, and faithfulness of Professor Himes, manifested in all his life and work during his long connection with the institution". The board also expressed its regret at the inability at the present time, owing to a lack of funds, to provide an adequate pension for those professors who after long and useful service retire from active work, either because of advancing years, or to secure time and opportunity for quiet study and research.

Dr. Himes was elected on Tuesday professor emeritus to serve without salary as an advisory member of the faculty, taking effect with the year 1914-15.

Dr. Himes is the oldest member on the faculty, in point of service. He graduated from Gettysburg in 1870 and from Yale a year later. From 1871 to 1873 he was a tutor in Stevens Hall, also teaching physics in the former year. In 1873 he was made Graeff Professor of English Literature and Political Science which position he has held ever since. When Dr. Himes retires in June he will have served the college for forty three years continuously.

New Professor Elected
Henry Robinson Shipperd, of Harvard University, was elected to succeed Dr. Himes, his term of service commencing with the opening of the next scholastic year. Prof. Shipperd graduated with honor from Harvard in 1908, having secured by competition three scholarships during his course in that institution. He is a member of Phi Beta Kappa. From 1908 to 1910 he was instructor in English in the Francis W. Parker School, at Chicago. From 1910-1914 he appears on the faculty list of Harvard College as assistant in English. His post graduate work in Harvard Graduate School has been in English for which he will receive the Ph. D. degree next June.

He was actively interested in all the chief activities of college life as an under-graduate and is a man of charming personality, broad sympathy, and wide scholarship interests. The authorities at Harvard were unanimous in recommending him as the very best man within their knowledge who was seeking a responsible and permanent college professorship in English. Professor Shipperd gives every promise of becoming a worthy incumbent of the professorial chair which Dr. Himes has graced with so much distinction.

M. Stuart Macdonald, Ph. D., of Cornell University, was elected professor of Economics and Political Science, his term of service to start with the opening of the next scholastic year. His work will be largely that of the new course in Commerce and Finance. He was born in Canada and graduated from Dalhousie College, with high honors in 1900, receiving his master's degree a year later. He then entered Cornell University for further post graduate work securing the Sage Scholarship of $300 annually for two years and the Sage Fellowship of $500 the third year, at the close of which course he received the Ph. D. degree. Since then he spent three years in the great Canadian North-West in business helping to develop the marvelous resources of that virgin region. One year he served as principal of the public schools of Whycomogach, N. Y., one year on the staff of the George Junior Republic, Litchfield, Conn., two years as instructor in Philosophy in McGill University and four years as Professor of Political Economy and Philosophy in the University of New Brunswick.

He comes recommended in the very highest terms as a good scholar, successful teacher, and a Christian gentleman of the highest type. The college is considered very fortunate in securing a man to look after the interests of the course in Commerce and Finance who has had such a rich experience in both the practical and the theoretical side of the work involved.

Other Business
The fraternity dormitory house question did not come before the meeting.

The athletic council was increased from three to six active members. John F. Dapp was elected as the first member from the Board of Trustees; Harry J. Stahlner was appointed as an additional alumni member to serve until the next meeting of the alumni association; and Clyde A. Fasick as an additional student member, by virtue of his office as president of the Athletic Association.

Beginning with the year 1915-1916 the annual tuition and general fees will be increased from $80 to $100. Other minor changes in the fees were authorized.

The college year was reduced from thirty six to thirty five weeks, the first semester beginning on the third Wednesday in September and the college year closing with Commencement Day on the second Wednesday in June.

The faculty resolution forbidding all forms of hazing was adopted by the board, hazing being defined as "severe practical joking involving physical personal injury and bodily harm, or the performance of any humiliating action entailing surrender of dignity and self respect". The definition adopted is taken from Funk and Wagnalls Standard Dictionary.

The name of the chair held by President Granville was changed from "President and William Bittinger Professor of Intellectual and Moral Science" to "President"; and the chair held by Prof. C. F. Sanders was changed from "Professor of Philosophy" to "William Bittinger Professor of Philosophy and Education."

POULTRY SHOW IS NOW IN PROGRESS

Three Big Buildings with Large Number of Interesting Exhibits Compose Second Annual Show at Biglerville. Judges Start their Work.

With three large buildings crammed full of interesting exhibits the second annual exhibition of the Biglerville Agricultural, Horticultural and Poultry Association opened this morning.

Almost twelve hundred birds are on exhibit in the large main building, conceded by the owners of the poultry to be far superior to similar buildings used by the shows in the nearby cities. Chickens, of numerous varieties and fine appearance, are displayed by the hundreds; the duck section is far ahead of last year, as is also the portion in which the turkeys are exhibited. The pigeons and guinea are interesting as ever and the show a great credit to the county. The cooping system has been a subject of much favorable comment from all the exhibitors who are also pleased with the other arrangements, complete in every detail.

Adams County's far-famed apples on plates and in boxes are attractively displayed in the second of the three buildings while specially fine potatoes, placed in competition, are to be found at the same place. The building houses the attractively arranged and gaily decorated booths of a number of business houses and Biglerville's further enterprise is to be seen in the refreshment stand being conducted by the ladies of the Library Association.

The third building houses the corn exhibit which is the largest of the kind the county has ever seen. This building also has the cars of a number of automobile exhibitors and is being eagerly sought. All three structures join each other closely and the arrangements could not be more convenient for visitors.

The officers of the association are to be seen here and there looking after the comfort of visitors and exhibitors. Eli Garretson is on hand to give everyone a warm welcome, to direct them about the show and extend all the courtesies of the association. Harry E. Bair, of Hanover, may be found in the poultry building where he is in charge. The taking care of the birds is an enormous task but Mr. Bair and his assistants are getting away with it in the very finest sort of shape. Chester J. Tyson, as superintendent of the apple department, and Curtis Peters, as superintendent of the displays of corn and potatoes, are eager to extend every attention to those visiting their portions of the show and visitors are sure to be well taken care of, no matter in what portion of the "fair" they may find themselves.

Immediately after the formal opening of the show at nine o'clock this morning the judges got to work with the idea in view of completing their tasks in as brief a time as possible, consistent with good and fair work. C. C. Cornman, the poultry expert of Carlisle, and F. G. Wiles, of Telford, are busily engaged in judging the poultry. The long aisles of coops are receiving their attention and the task proves to be a heavy one. For the apples F. M. Fagan, of State College, is the judge, while D. N. Minnick, of Chambersburg, is judging the potatoes and W. E. Hanger, of College Park, Maryland, the corn. All are recognized as authorities in their respective lines and their decisions will doubtless be received by victors and vanquished with equal satisfaction.

The poultry building is much larger this year than last and visitors are not crowded in any way in going up and down the "streets". Similar extra room has been furnished in the other buildings and the show is proving not only a pride and a satisfaction to exhibitors but a convenience and a point of interest to spectators as well.

TOOK CLOTHES OF HIS STEP-FATHER

Leo Darr Takes Pilfered Garments to his Grandfather's Home but is Soon Captured there by Constable John C. Shealer.

Stealing his stepfather's clothes and turning the garments over to his grandfather, Leo Darr fell into the clutches of Constable Shealer and is now reposing in the care of Sheriff Thompson awaiting trial at January term of Court. The alleged criminal is aged about 12 years.

Young Darr paid a holiday visit to the home of his grandfather, John Sponseller, south of town and, in return for kindnesses received there, evidently intended to furnish his relative with some extra clothing. One morning this week, after his stepfather had left the house, the youth dropped his parent's best clothing from an up-stairs window to the porch below, then went down, without arousing the suspicions of the other members of the family, and picking up the bundle, started for the direction of Harper's Hill and his grandfather's home.

Arriving there he displayed with no little pride the pilfered garments and was in the act of trying the shoes on his grandfather when Constable Shealer stepped in at the door and placed the youngster under arrest.

Justice Harnish on information made by the stepfather, Jacob Darr, turned him over to Sheriff Thompson after a hearing. The boy has given the local school board many an annoying evening and his name has frequently been the signal for an extended discussion in that body.

Loyal Temperance Legion Alumni Meeting at Bendersville.

The monthly meeting of the Sunnyside Loyal Temperance Legion Alumni was held at the residence of Mrs. F. G. Michener, Bendersville, December 30th. In the absence of the president the meeting was called to order by Raymond Michener.

The program for the evening preceded the business meeting and was as follows: reading, "They have Painted up the Brewery", by Mrs. Michener; reading, from the letter of the state treasurer, by Mrs. A. I. Weidner; talk by Miss Anna Michener on the value of publicity through the columns of the press and an appeal to the members to have the editors of the county papers devote some space to the temperance movement. The program was concluded by several L. T. songs.

The business meeting was opened by the report of the treasurer, C. A. Griest, showing a favorable balance in the treasury for the year ending December, 1913. A committee was appointed to investigate the advisability of a poster campaign against alcohol. The members were urged to report at the meetings any objectionable stories found in various magazines so that personal letters could be written to the editors protesting against such stories.

After singing a few more songs the meeting was adjourned.

MEXICAN REBELS ROUT FEDERALS

Hundreds Fleo Into Texas When Ojinaga is Attacked.

THEIR POSITION DESPERATE

Dazed by Defeat of Outposts, Many Mutineers Were Shot Dead by Officers to Maintain Fighting Front.

Presidio, Tex., Dec. 31.—Fighters between Mexican Federalists and Constitutionalists at Ojinaga, Mex., opposite this place, has been resumed.

The rebels advanced upon the Federal trenches, where the remnants of Huerta's army in northern Mexico had taken refuge after a disastrous defeat in the first onset.

A desultory fire opened by the rebels indicated that the rebel forces intended to push the fight right into the Federal stronghold and make the conflict decisive. The Federalists had retreated to the innermost trenches, apparently without hope of repulsing the attacking force.

Only a few shots came from the Huerta lines in the early stages of the fighting. As viewed from the American side the situation of the Federalists seemed desperate, as they had no ground for further retreat.

General Ortega, commanding the Constitutionalists, has received orders to execute summarily Generals Salazar, Orozco, Rojas and Alanis, commanding volunteers.

In the darkness many of the terrified Federalists crossed the Rio Grande to the American side, but all, except the badly wounded were forced by the United States troops to return into Mexico.

The final rout was preceded by a three-hour battle, begun after dark, in which the rebels, marching through the deep canyons south of Ojinaga, completely wiped out the Federal outposts. The news of the defeat at La Mula Pass and La Mulato, giving the rebels an unobstructed pass to within firing distance of Ojinaga itself, caused a frenzied retreat among the Federals.

Dazed and demoralized by this disheartening encounter, eleven Mexican Federal generals and the remnants of their army crouched in the trenches of Ojinaga, uncertain whether they should put up a resistance against an other attack or scatter in disorder.

In the village were all that remained of the northern division of Huerta's army. About them on the hills was the advance guard of General Ortega's rebel army, and still further back were more rebels.

After Monday night's rout, when many terrified soldiers crossed to the American side or were shot dead for mutiny at their officers' feet, on the Mexican side, the Federalists apparently were in no position to maintain a fighting front. Upon the ability of the generals to rally their soldiers will depend whether the Huerta army is to keep or lose its last remaining foothold in the northern part of Mexico.

Meanwhile the United States troops on the American side of the river were scouting the border for any Federals who might have crossed in the night and to check any general rush across the river, as seemed imminent, when, during the panic in the garrison at Ojinaga, about 500 Federalists, carrying their guns, jumped into the river to seek safety on the American side.
Of this number at least 400 were driven back before they got out of the water.

One hundred Federal soldiers were found on the American side six miles down the river. They still had their arms. Major McNamee immediately disarmed them, marched them to Presidio and forced them back to the Mexican side.

The badly wounded were the only ones allowed to remain on the American side and these were cared for by Dr. Burnside, of the United States army. The number killed on both sides was small, but many were reported wounded.

"JOKE" STARTS RUN ON BANK

Notice Said Institution Would "Close Doors" on Jan. 1.

Ridgeway, Pa., Dec. 31.—The Ridgeway National bank will close its doors on Jan. 1.

This notice, posted, it is said, by a practical joker, started a run on the bank which caused the withdrawal of more than $10,000 within an hour.

The depositors were angry when their attention was called to the fact that Jan. 1 is a holiday.

Naval Musician Dies of Smallpox.
Washington, Dec. 31.—Renel R.
Fleming, a navy musician, who contracted smallpox on the battleship Ohio while returning from the Mediterranean cruise, died on Sunday at the Guantanamo isolation camp. He came from Sullivan, Ind. This makes two deaths on the Ohio from smallpox.
The ship is now being fumigated at the Delaware Breakwater.

Bandits Rob Kentucky Bank.
Lexington, Ky., Dec. 31.—Highway men held up the clerks in a bank at Ferdonia, Ky., dynamited the safe and escaped with between $7000 and $10,

wires as they fled, and the town is cut off from communication with the outside world except by messengers.

SCHMIDT JURY FAILS TO AGREE

Said to Have Slood Ten to Two For Conviction.

New York, Dec. 31.—The jury which tried Hans Schmidt for the murder of Anna Ammiller has failed to agree.

After the jury had deliberated for thirty-two hours and forty-four minutes and had failed to unite in a conclusion, Judge Foster decided that it was hopeless. He discharged the jury and remanded Schmidt back to the Tombs.

Schmidt maintained the same attitude he has displayed all through the trial and through the exciting moments, when time after time the jury filed into the box, there was suspense born of an expected verdict, only to be dispelled by the words of the foreman: "We still fail to agree."

The discredited priest sat straight in his chair, his narrow shoulders garbed in a scraggly fur-lined overcoat, and with his long hair and unkempt beard tousled about his head.
He turned neither to right nor left;
his eyes remained on Judge Foster.
When the jury had been discharged Schmidt followed his attendant from the room, walking quickly and lightly No emotion was discernible on his thin face.

It is understood that ten of the jury men wanted to convict, and that two William A. McAuliffe and John Grisch, doubted Schmidt's sanity and wanted to acquit him on the ground of insanity.

KILLED IN AUTO ACCIDENT

Man Crushed to Death and Two Injured When Motor Overturns.
Wilmington, Del., Dec. 31.—United States Senator Willard Saulsbury probably saved the lives of a woman and child, although the husband was killed in an auto accident at Farn-hurst, a few miles from this city.

The dead man is Thomas G. Tom-key, of Middletown. The seriously injured persons as a result of the turning turtle of the auto in which they were riding are Mrs. Tomkey and James Walker, a boy. All three were from Middletown.

The machine was speeding at a high rate when it turned turtle a short distance from the Farnhurst hospital.
Senator Saulsbury in his high powered car witnessed the accident and drove the car at a high rate of speed to the state insane hospital at Farnhurst and summoned a physician.

An investigation showed that Tom-key was dead and that the other two occupants were seriously injured. Senator Saulsbury took Mrs. Tomkey to the hospital. She was not told of the death of her husband. The Walker boy was also removed to a hospital.

TO HEAD NAVAL ACADEMY

It Is Rumored Captain Fullam Will Succeed Captain Gibbons.

Annapolis, Md., Dec. 31.—That there will be a general shake-up among the administration officials of the United States naval academy some time in the near future is the information contained in unofficial reports received here from Washington.

The authorities of the institution admit that the changes are in contemplation. Captain John H. Gibbons, superintendent; Captain George W. Logan, commandant of midshipmen, and Lieutenant Commander Adolphus Andrews, aide to the superintendent, are all slated for sea assignments.

It is generally understood that Captain William F. Fullam, one time head of the department of ordnance and gunnery at the academy, is to be the new superintendent. Captain Gibbons is reported, is to be given command of one of the battleships of the Atlantic fleet.

Shamokin Thieves Get $4000 Silks.
Shamokin, Pa., Dec. 31.—One of the most daring robberies here in many years was committed when thieves entered the department store of J. R.
Mosser & Co. and stole silks worth $4000. The burglars worked with such skill that it is believed that they were professionals, and may be the same gang that perpetrated similar robberies in Sunbury and Mount Carmel recently.

TORAILROADTRIAL OF NEGRO SLAYERS

Two Indicted For Chestertown, Md., Murder.

MAY ARREST MOB LEADERS

Court Orders Grand Jury to Probe Attack on Jail and Indict the Leaders of the Mob.

Chestertown, Md., Dec. 31.—Arrangements to railroad the trials of Norman Mabel and James Paraway, the negro youths who have confessed to the murder of James B. Coleman, a well-to-do farmer, of Melittola, near here, last Tuesday, have been made.

The grand jury returned indictments against Paraway and Mabel. The presentments did not include Jarvis Hyson, another negro, who is strongly suspected of implication in the murder.
He is being held with two other negroes as witnesses.

Meanwhile Chestertown is in a state of great excitement over the avowed intention of the court to seek out the leaders of the mob that stormed the jail on Saturday night and Sunday morning in an attempt to lynch the five negro suspects who were confined there.

Judge Constable, in charging the grand jury in the cases of the negroes, not only said that it was his intention to see that the prisoners received a fair trial, but informed the jurors that it was their duty to sift to the bottom the attack on the jail and return indictments against all who could be implicated, regardless of their standing in the community.

These remarks came as a great surprise to the throng which filled the courtroom. Men gazed from one to another, but not a sound was made, as every word was grasped as it left the lips of the jurist. State's Attorney Harrison W. Vickers has declared that the mob was composed of a bunch of hoodlums, but citizens who witnessed the storming of the jail can name the sons of some of the most prominent men of the county.

"The majesty of the law must be upheld," said Judge Constable in his charge, "and it is the duty and most earnest obligation of you men to find out who participated in the breaking into the jail last Sunday morning and to indict every one, regardless of who they are."

The assault upon W. A. Dadds, a grocer, by three negroes aroused the crowd again to a wild spirit of indignation, although one negro is locked safely in jail and warrants have been issued for the other two.

Dadds was in his store, when George Deems and his two sons, George and William Deems, entered and started an argument.

The negro passed the ugly word and Dadds demanded an apology. Suddenly the three negroes attacked Dadds. Articles were thrown through his windows and Dadds was knocked to the ground.

During the fray one of the negroes bit a deep gash in Dadds' ear, while another struck him in the head with a brick. The negroes made their escape, but later the older man was arrested.

The scene of the assault was at Santiago, a negro settlement west of Chestertown. There are few white persons who live in that vicinity, but the indignation of these few was soon manifested. When news of the assault reached Chestertown the fire of many other whites was aroused. No effort was made to get the negro, however, because of the heavy guard of Baltimore policemen at the jail.

BIBLE OIL HUNTER' GUIDE

Study of Exodus Results in Three New Wells in Egypt.

Wooster, O., Dec. 31.—A story of how a verse in the Book of Exodus aided John D. Rockefeller to increase his fortune was related here by Charles Whitshot, geologist and oil and gas expert of the Standard Oil company, who has just returned from Egypt.

"The verse in question tells of the use of pitch in making the craft in which the babe Moses was set afloat," said Mr. Whitshot, "and Chief Geologist Alphonse, of the Standard, reasoned that where there was pitch there was oil. I was sent out to investigate, and three wells now in operation, with more being developed, are the result."

Fire in Montreal Again.

Montreal, Can., Dec. 31.—The second serious fire within twenty-four hours occurred in Montreal, which is without an adequate water supply, when two blocks in St. Lawrence Boulevard were burned. The loss is $250,000. The firemen were badly handicapped by the water famine and could only obtain a slight supply from the hydrants of the Montreal Water and Power company. The water famine is due to a break in the intake pipe, and the city has suffered from it for several days.

Servia Prepares For War.

Balkans. It became known that the government has placed heavy orders with the Krupp firm in Germany for artillery. Servian troops have invaded Northern Albania despite the warning of Austria.

Intervention in Mexico.

Intervention in Mexico was advocated by Senator Catron, of New Mexico, who has just returned from an investigation of conditions across the border, during which he personally interviewed Francisco Villa, leader of the rebels. "Our government does not want to intervene, but such practices make intervention probable," the sen-

WON BRIDE AND $25,000 ON $10 AND NERVE

Boy "Realty King" is Off on Honeymoon.

New York, Dec. 31.—With showers of rice to start them on their New Year honeymoon, Mr. and Mrs. Julian E. White sailed for Florida on the liner Lenape.

Their marriage at Islip, the home of the bride, who was Miss Lucille Smith, marked the climax of a courtship that included the objections of fond parents and a ture at quick fortune making by the prospective bridegroom.

Six months ago Mr. White started for Florida to make his fortune, with $100 in his pocket. He had looked the field over and decided that Florida was the best place. So he went into the real estate business at West Palm Beach with his meager capital, and today, according to his friends, he has amassed the not inconsiderable sum of $25,000 and won the girl of his choice.

It was necessary for Mr. White to do something in a hurry if he wanted Miss Smith, because Preston Smith, her father, objected to the match on the ground that the young man had not made his mark in the world and could not provide her with a good home.

Then young Mr. White got busy, borrowed $150 from a friend and started southward. It is said that he had only $10 left when he sold his first lot at Palm Beach. He has known Miss Smith since childhood. The most strange objections of the parents were met by the bank book displayed by the young man.

testifying to the merit of the produc-

firm conviction of the worth of all his carry weight sufficient to justify a guarantee of this attraction.—adver-

WRECKED SAILORS EMULATE CRUSOE

Lived Primeval Life For Six Months on Island.

WERE RESCUED BY STEAMER

Skipper and Ten Companions of Lost El Dorado Were Cast Upon Barren Island.

Norfolk Island, Australia, Dec. 31.—Eleven modern Robinson Crusoes were landed here by the British steamer Knight of the Garter, after an enforced residence of six months on Easter Island, a Chilean possession, practically uninhabited, 2000 miles out in the vastness of the Pacific ocean.

The eleven men formed the crew of the schooner El Dorado, of San Francisco, which left the Columbia river on April 1, bound for Antofagasta, Chile, and was abandoned on June 13, after her rigging had been torn to shreds by the wind and her sides battered in by the waves of a tempest which broke loose along the early hours of the morning of the 13th.

How the little crew, all in one boat, managed to ride the fury of the storm that increased in violence throughout the day is a wonder to the skipper, Captain Benton.

"We just stuck to our oars," he said, "and put our trust in God. All through the night we lay to, expecting every moment to be carried under, when along morning time the tempest began to subside, and right to port, about eleven miles away, the outlines of an island loomed up in patches through the mist. Most of the men were dead tired, holding on to their oars all night, but I cheered them along, and we made straight for land, reaching a small inlet in about five hours.

"We started in to explore our surroundings. Yes, sir; it sounds mighty like Robinson Crusoe, but that's just what we were up against. Well, to make a long story short, we dug what tools we had out of the boat, built some sort of a log cabin, and for the next few days lived on the little we had put in the boat before leaving the El Dorado and from what fruits and herbs we could pick about us.

"After we'd been on the island for a month or so, the ship's cook came in one afternoon with a story about seeing a little village a few miles to the north of us. At this all the men looked kind of scared, instead of the other way round. You see, we thought they might be cannibals.

"One morning we drew lots to see who'd go with me. It fell to three of the sailors, so leaving the two mates, the ship's cook and four seamen behind, we set out, after provisioning the boat with fruit and other things that we'd been able to raise.

"The natives had said something about Papete, one of the Society Islands, where we'd find white folks. It took us exactly twenty-eight days before we reached the island. That was on Nov. 5, and as the natives had said we found immediate relief.

"Here, after a week or so, the Knight of the Garter took us on board. I told the skipper about my companions on Easter Island, and we went back and picked them up.

"Yes, sir; they were mighty glad when we hove in sight on a real steamer. They'd already given us up for lost. In fact, after all I've gone through I'm not quite settled in mind whether I'm really alive myself."

The rescued men have not as yet made any plans, but it is expected that they will return to San Francisco on the first available vessel.

EX-QUEEN OF SWEDEN DEAD

Late King Oscar's Widow Was Invalid For 25 Years.

Stockholm, Sweden, Dec. 31.—The Dowager Queen Sophia of Sweden died here after a very brief illness. She was seventy-seven years old and the widow of King Oscar II, who died on Dec. 8, 1907.

Before her marriage to the late king the dowager queen was Princess Sophia of Nassau. She was the mother of the present king, Gustaf V.

The queen mother's health had been failing for the past quarter of a century, and during that time she took little part in state functions. She was a warm supporter and advocate of the Salvation Army and its methods.

It is rumored that she leaves a large fortune, which will go to her younger son, Prince Oscar, who renounced his rights to the throne to marry Miss Munk, a royal maid of honor. The queen mother heartily approved of the match.

Patients Escape From Asylum. Pottsville, Pa., Dec. 31.—Because screens have not been put on all the windows of the new $600,000 insane asylum at Schuylkill Haven, three patients have escaped by jumping out. Two of these were captured, but the third, John Selinski, was not heard of until Tuesday, when it was learned that he took a train to New York and from there for a board an ocean liner bound for his native land.

MISSING 15 YEARS; RETURNS

Mother Finds as Wilbur Lawson Takes Vacant Seat at Table.

Gumora, Del., Dec. 31.—Separated from his family for more than fifteen years and supposed to be dead, Wilbur Lawson arrived here from Mexico just in time to walk into the old home-stand and take his place at the dinner table. His mother, who had been waiting for his sudden appearance.

After arriving at the house he peered into the lighted room and saw that the family was just ready to sit down to a late supper. He noticed one chair and plate where no one was sitting, and without a word opened the door and took the vacant place.

His mother immediately recognized him and almost fainted from joy, while the rest of the family swarmed around him with shouts of joy and handshakes.

Lawson left home when a lad and after roaming all around this country finally found his way to Mexico, where he became identified with some silver mines. It was during the present outbreak in Mexico that he decided to return to his home.

SIX SIEGEL CONCERNS IN RECEIVERS' HANDS

Friendly Action Taken in New York and Boston.

New York, Dec. 31.—Six enterprises controlled by the Siegel Stores Corporation in this city and in Boston were placed in the hands of receivers in friendly proceedings instituted in the federal courts.

The concerns had an annual gross business estimated at $40,000,000, but they found themselves hard pressed by curtailment of banking credit.

The companies for which receivers were named are: The Fourteenth Street Store, New York; the Simpson-Crawford company, New York, a department store; the Henry Siegel company, a department store in Boston; Henry Siegel & Co., bankers, New York; Henry Siegel & Co., wholesalers, New York; the Merchants' Express company, New York.

The banking business was conducted in connection with the Fourteenth Street Store, in New York, but the amount of deposits or the number of depositors was not made known.

Counsel announced that Henry Siegel and Frank E. Vogel, principal owners of the concerns involved, had pledged $3,500,000 in stock in the Siegel Stores Corporation toward the depositors' protection. The bank will proceed to liquidation.

Efforts will be made to reorganize the chain of stores as soon as possible. Meanwhile the business will be conducted by the receivers.

The petitioning corporation declares that the Simpson-Crawford company owes it $65,000; the Fourteenth Street Store owes it $350,000, and the Henry Siegel company, $60,000.

No further statement of assets or liabilities of any of the concerns is available.

SAYS SHE'S GRANT'S BRIDE

East Waterford, Pa., Girl Declares Warrier's Grandson Married Her. Harrisburg, Pa., Dec. 31.—The Star Independent, of this city, prints an interview with Lillian F. Pannebaker, of East Waterford, Juniata county, in which she says that she was married in Jersey City, N. J., on July 22 by Rev. A. B. Bandus to Chapman Grant, grandson of President U. S. Grant.

She says that her husband is a lieutenant in the United States army, having been commissioned on Oct. 15, and is now at Fort Clark, Tex., where she expects to join him.

Miss Pannebaker is the daughter of W. A. Pannebaker, who was owner of a foundry and machine works at East Waterford, and lives with her mother.

The young woman is a nurse and has served in that capacity in several hospitals. She refuses to tell where she met Grant or why the alleged marriage is kept secret.

Binns Wins $12,500 Suit.

Albany, N. Y., Dec. 31.—"Jack" Binns, the wireless operator hero of the steamer Republic disaster in 1909, will receive $12,500 because a moving picture concern exploited a fake portrait of him. The court of appeals upheld the judgment for that amount obtained against the Vitagraph company.

CASEY GOT EVEN WITH BULL

Mod-Carrier Chased Across Extensive Field by Angry Animal Takes Revenge on Playful Calf.

Gov. Glynn of New York tells a story concerning one Casey, a mod-carrier, who during the summer was employed at a country place in Westchester county. In order to reach the railway station to take the train home it was necessary for Casey to cross an extensive field.

One evening there was a bull in this field, and it gave Casey a terrible chase. He sprinted for about half a mile and only escaped by a wonderful leap over a five-foot fence.

Next evening, on his homeward journey, Casey carried a hod with him to serve as a weapon should he again encounter the bull. This time, however, the bull was absent. Only a playful, harmless calf was in sight. Approaching it, the vindictive Casey gave it a sharp blow with his hod, at the same time exclaiming excitedly: "Take that, and tell your father Patrick Casey done it!"—Lippincott's.

Handwriting. Mother was fair, but she wished to be fairer still. Adorned by nature, she sought further beautification. Loveliness was her great goal.

Invited out to dinner, she stood before the mirror and, having made her yellow locks a trifle yellower she proceeded to apply the pencil to her eyebrows. This, it may be remarked, is an age of artificiality, and mother had reached this age.

The little daughter stood by and wondered.

"Mother, what are you writing on your face for?"—Popular Magazine.

MODERN LITTLE HELPER.

"I suppose your little girl is quite big enough now to be a good deal of help to her mother."

"No; she won't be any help to her mother until she can play a better game of bridge."

Our Funny Language. A sleeper is one who sleeps. A sleeper is that in which a sleeper sleeps. A sleeper is that on which the sleeper runs while the sleeper sleeps. Therefore, while the sleeper sleeps in the sleeper the sleeper carries the sleeper until the sleeper, which carries the sleeper, jumps the sleeper and wakes the sleeper in the sleeper by striking the sleeper under the sleeper on the sleeper, and there is no longer any sleep for the sleeper sleeping in the sleeper on the sleeper.

Good Remedy for it. Mrs. Keeppup made it her private and particular business to have whatever her neighbor had, whether it was a question of chickens or diseases, so when Mrs. Gotthere complained to her one day of insomnia Mrs. Keeppup was ready for her. "I have it, too, very badly at times." "What do you do for it, Mrs. Keeppup?" "Why, I have never found anything that did me any real good, except to go to bed and sleep it off."

Deaf, Dumb, and Blind at Wedding. A wedding took place the other day at St. George's church, Gravesend, England, when Mr. Herbert Thorndike was married to Miss Stiles. Both bride and bridegroom are deaf and dumb, and Canon Gedge, who is totally blind, performed the ceremony.

SAGE TEA DANDY TO DARKEN HAIR

It's Grandmother's Recipe to Bring Back Color and Lustre to Hair

You can turn gray, faded hair beautifully dark and lustrous almost overnight if you'll get a 50 cent bottle of "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Hair Remedy" at any drug store. Millions of bottles of this old, famous Sage Tea Recipe are sold annually, says a well-known druggist here, because it darkens the hair so naturally and evenly that no one can tell it has been applied.

Those whose hair is turning gray, becoming faded, dry, scraggy and thin have a surprise awaiting them, because after one or two applications the gray hair vanishes and your locks become luxuriantly dark and beautiful—all dandruff goes, scalp itching and falling hair stops.

This is the age of youth. Gray-haired, unattractive folks aren't wanted around, so get busy with Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur hair-remedy and you'll be delighted with your dark, handsome hair and your youthful appearance within a few days.

ACQUITTAL FOR PAUL M. STARNER

Jury Finds Defendant in Case which Attracted General Attention, not Guilty. Judge Swope Says Only Possible Proper Verdict.

"Not guilty" was the verdict rendered this morning by the jury in the case of the Commonwealth against Paul M. Starnier, accused of a serious crime against Lillian Andrew. The jury reached a decision after deliberations lasting over seven hours and terminating about midnight. They sealed their verdict and it was opened when Court convened.

Judge Swope smiled as he read the verdict, the panel of the jurors was taken, and the Court in commenting upon the verdict said:

"Gentlemen of the jury, under the evidence in this case the verdict you have agreed upon was the only possible proper verdict. Every one who heard the charge of the Court to the jury on Friday must have been impressed with the fact that it was favorable to the defense. No Court could have charged a jury in this particular case without being favorable to the defense. The only thing against the defendant was the story of Lillian Andrew and that was successfully attacked as not worthy of belief. The Court then finally discharged the defendant but before Mr. Starnier left the room he said:

"Your Honor, I want to thank you most sincerely and I want to extend my thanks to the men on the jury."

Mr. Starnier was seated with his father when the verdict was brought in and both of them showed plainly their delight over the issue to the case. A number of people in the Court Room extended congratulations but both were anxious to leave, and they lost no time in communicating the happy news to Mr. Starnier's wife and other friends who stood by him staunchly through the trying days of the week.

The close of the case on Friday was marked by little sensational. Mr. Wible, representing the Commonwealth, made the first plea to the jury, speaking for about a half hour. Mr. Duncan and Mr. Swope for the defense followed with addresses of an hour each. In the afternoon Mr. Keith closed for the Commonwealth, speaking for two hours. The Court's charge to the jury required little over an hour and the twelve men retired at 4:25. Their deliberations lasted until a few minutes after midnight when the twelve agreed on the verdict.

As soon as the jury in the Starnier case had retired the next case was called. It was of a similar nature, Peter Stoner being charged with a serious offense against Flora Shultz. All the parties concerned are from Gettysburg. The jury was selected but, the regular panel being exhausted, four of the twelve were taken from the audience in the Court Room. The jury as finally chosen was composed of the following: J. Harry Holtzworth, Theodore E. Frock, John W. Gardner, Frank Keffer, William Eline, J. Frank Mehring, Clinton Rife, Thomas J. Winebrenner, Samuel Lott, John Thoman, Harry L. Bucher and C. O. Myers. The trial was taken up this morning and after hearing witnesses the Court directed a verdict of "not guilty" to be found.

District Attorney Wible conducted the case for the Commonwealth and J. Donald Swope represented the defendant.

The Gettysburg "Collegians" were the victors over the Stewartstown basketball team by the score of 22 to 21 at that place Friday evening. Never more than four points separated the two teams, the score at the close of the first period being 14 to 12 in Stewartstown's favor. HIGH SCHOOL'S PLAY ATTRACTS

Waiting for the Train, a Farce Given at the High School, Attracts Audience that Fills the Room. Costumes and Jokes Enjoyed.

In the presence of an audience that occupied almost every available inch of space in the High School the members of the Palm Society on Friday afternoon presented the farce, "Waiting for the Train." Even the window sills were pressed into service to help dispose of the crowd and it was an interested audience that witnessed the comedy.

A portion of the "auditorium" was converted into the waiting room of a railway station with benches, ticket office, newsstand and all the other necessary adjuncts of an up-to-date depot. The travelers included a pair of elopers, a widower with five children, a spinster eager for a home, two Italian wanderers, a tramp, four negroes, several farmers and numerous other characters all in more or less elaborate make-ups.

The conversation and costumes furnished merriment for a half hour or more, while there were frequent interruptions when the crier would announce trains for Seven Stars, Pigeon Hills, Hunterstown and other nearby cities. Several missed trains and others were compelled to wait for "several hours." All told, the play showed well the people one might be expected to see in a busy city station at one time or another, and players and audience enjoyed the performance equally.

Before this entertainment was announced, a short program was rendered opening with a chorus by the society, an oration by Grace Furney; a recitation, Helen Pfeiffer; piano solo, William Troxell; paper, Margaret Williams; oration, Alma Kittinger; recitation, Lloyd Sharetts; recitation, Henry Taylor. Ralph Oyler and Mildred Stoner played a violin duet accompanied by Marian Stallsmith, and the High School orchestra played several times.

PRAISE STUDENT CAMP

College Presidents Pleased With Training Camp at Gettysburg.

The work of the student army camps undertaken last summer at Gettysburg, and near Monterey, Cal., and to be conducted on a larger scale this season, is commended in a statement from nine university and college presidents made public at the War Department.

"The military instruction," says the statement, "was thorough, the discipline was strict; but the work was so well arranged that it caused enjoyment rather than hardship. The food, sanitation and medical care were good and the lessons received by the students in these matters were scarcely less valuable than the military instruction itself. We commend these camps to the attention of college authorities as a most important adjunct to the educational system of the United States, furnishing the student a healthful and profitable summer course at moderate expense."

The statement is signed by Presidents Hibben, Princeton; Lowell, Harvard; Hadley, Yale; Finley, College of the City of New York; Hutchins, Michigan; Denny, Alabama; Nichols, Virginia Military Institute; Wheeler, California, and Drinker, Lehigh.

BOYS' PIG CLUB

Agriculture Department Forming Pig Club Prize Competitions.

Organization of boys' pig clubs is the latest step taken by the department of agriculture as a means of reducing the high cost of living. The department is endeavoring to interest young farmers in the breeding of good hogs, the object being to raise at least enough pork for home consumption and if possible a surplus for the market. It is pointed out that pork can be produced so as to sell much cheaper than beef. "A shortage of beef," says a statement issued "means an increased demand for pork, and it seems reasonable that there should be a ready demand for all the available supply. This means money in the pocket of the boy hog raiser."

48 PERISH IN SEA COLLISION

Monroe Goes Down Ten Minutes After the Crash.

RESCUE SHIP LANDS 85

Ill-Fated Passengers, Asleep When Crash Came, Had No Chance For Life—Disaster Occurred In Dense Fog.

Norfolk, Va., Jan. 31.—Forty-eight persons lost their lives in the icy waters of the Atlantic when the Old Dominion liner Monroe, from Norfolk for New York, was rammed amidship, overturned and sunk within ten minutes, twenty-five miles southeast of Hog Island, by the Merchants' and Miners' liner Nantucket, bound from Boston to Norfolk.

The forty-eight persons lost comprised twenty-three passengers and twenty-five members of the crew, according to official wireless reports to the Old Dominion line.

Thirty passengers and fifty-five of the crew were saved, making the list of those rescued eighty-five, who were brought to Norfolk by the badly damaged Nantucket.

Captain Johnson and all his officers except one were among those saved.
Among the lost was Second Officer Gately.

Captain Johnson was found in the water clutching a piece of wreckage.
He was nearly exhausted when picked up by a lifeboat.

When the Monroe sank she disappeared completely, with no vestige of her rigging above the water. Only scattered wreckage marked the vessel's grave.

Among the rescued passengers is James O'Connell, vice president of the American Federation of Labor.

The eighty-five survivors picked up from the sea and huddled on the Nantucket, which, with crumpled bow, limped into Norfolk, were the only ones who knew all the details of how the two big ships, picking their way through a blanket of fog—one bound north and the other bound south—met with a crash near the Winter Quarter Shoal lightship. "S. O. S." calls reaching out to the coast stations started every available agency of rescue into action, but not soon enough.

The Nantucket was conveyed by the steamship Hamilton to Norfolk. The Nantucket was badly damaged in the bow.

While the Nantucket backed off, after the collision, lowered boats and began sweeping the misty sea with her big searchlights, the Monroe, her passengers pitched out of their berths in their night clothes, sank like a plummet.

In the swirling vortex of the sinking ship men shouted and women screamed through the mist. The Monroe went down so quickly that there was little time for launching boats and the only ones saved were those picked up at once by the Nantucket.

Those lost had scarcely a chance to realize that death was upon them before they were struggling in the sea.
The doomed passengers of the Monroe, fast asleep in their cabins when the two vessels came together, went down to death with only time for a shriek of despair.

Only those kept awake by the shorting sirens that were walling their useless warnings through the fog knew when the vessels struck. The crew, thrown from their berths by the force of the collision, heavy with sleep, had scarcely time to struggle to the deck of the sinking vessel before they were plunged into the water.

Not ten minutes intervened between the time the blunt bow of the lumbering Nantucket crashed its way into the side of the Dominion liner and the time the latter slid under the waves.
The eighty-five rescued huddled on the Nantucket were lifted from the icy water after their vessel had gone to the bottom.

Thomas Harrington, of Bridgeport, Conn., told a thrilling story of the wreck. Harrington and his wife were long in the water and the man was swimming with his wife's hair between his teeth when the two were picked up. Mrs. Harrington died from exhaustion after being hauled aboard the Nantucket.

MUTILATES MAN WHO ATTACKED WIFE

Doctor Says He Returned Home and Found Music Teacher.

Monessen, Pa., Jan. 31.—When Dr.
Martin E. Griffith, one of Monessen's most prominent physicians, according to his own statement, returned unexpectedly to his home, he says that he found A. M. Robertson, a Pittsburgh music teacher, attacking Mrs. Griffith.

With one blow, he says, he knocked him to the floor, and then slashed him with a knife. Robertson is in the Charleroi-Monessen hospital, where he was taken in an ambulance said to have been ordered by Dr. Griffith. He is in a serious condition, but will recover, according to Dr. Griffith, who is watching his condition. He is injured for life.

The case parallels in many respects the famous Cuddey case in Omaha, Neb., when the wealthy meat packer wielded a knife on an intruder in his home.

One of the remarkable features of this most unusual case is that Dr.
Griffith is about fifty years old, his wife about forty-five and Robertson is said to be fifty-five.

"Yes, I cut him," declared the doctor in a booming voice, squaring his broad shoulders, when asked what had occurred. "I have nothing to hide; I am sorry it happened, but I am glad that it is as it is. It is a wonder it was not worse."

The doctor and Mrs. Griffith have grown-up children, one of whom is Jesse, a twenty-year-old boy, who is a student in the University of Pittsburgh.

No arrests have been made in the case, and Chief of Police John Wheatley, of Monessen, declared that there would be none until Robertson gets well enough to attend to it or to express his desire to have some person in authority make one.

declared O. E. Knapp, business agent of the carpenters' union, in commenting on the building of the Billy Sunday tabernacle by forty ministers.

Knapp also threatens to call the union carpenters off the building, charging the church committee with violating a promise that only union men would work on the tabernacle.

GOMPERS DRUNK CHARGES MINER

Throws Labor Convention Into an Uproar.

Head of the A. F. of L. Heatedly Calls
His Accuser "Liar!" and "Slanderer!"

Indianapolis, Jan. 31.—That Samuel Gompers, president of the American Federation of Labor, was "gloriously drunk" at the Seattle convention of the federation, was the charge made by Duncan McDonald, of Illinois, at the convention of the United Mine Workers of America.

During the prolonged cheers, "Liar!"
"Slanderer!" were hurled at McDonald by Gompers, who sat on the platform.

"I am glad Mr. Gompers is here so I can say what I want to," said Mc-Donald, in beginning his reply to the speech made by Gompers. "I said there were booze fighters in charge of the American Federation of Labor, and I'll prove it. At the Seattle convention I had a room with my wife at a hotel next to the room reserved by the resolutions committee. The first Saturday night we could not sleep for the noise made by a bunch of drunks in the next room."

"I appealed to the clerk of the hotel, and the noise grew worse. Then I went down to the hotel office, and the night manager called Jim Duncan on the phone and told him they would have to get out of the room, that they were disturbing all on the floor."

"The noise grew fierce, and I finally knocked on the door of the room, and was asked to come in and have a drink. When the door was opened there sat Sam Gompers at the head of the table gloriously drunk with a bottle of booze in his hand."

The statement threw the convention into an uproar, and it was some time before order was restored. While the confusion was at its height Gompers called McDonald a liar and a slanderer.

McDonald charged Gompers with maintaining a machine to perpetuate himself at the head of the federation and of assisting the Democratic party even against candidates of other parties who are members of labor organizations. He ridiculed the idea that the unions could not pay a two-cent assessment to aid the Michigan copper mine strikers.

"If a union would not meet the assessment," declared McDonald, "why I would rather they would get outside the federation. If a two-cent assessment can break up the American Federation of Labor, then it is a mighty flimsy institution."

Gompers followed McDonald and denied absolutely the charge of drunkenness. He declared the statement to be "hellish, untruthful, vicious, slandering and without any form of honor."

Gompers denied that he maintained a machine to keep himself in office and as an illustration said he had two offers of positions from the governor of a great state, one paying $5000 a year and the other $10,000, but had refused both to continue in the labor movement.

"The labor movement is a part of my life," he continued, "and I'm going to stick to it. You may drive me out of office, but you can't drive me out of the movement."

Gompers reiterated his statement that to levy an assessment would be disastrous to organized labor and that it could not be collected in time to benefit the copper strikers. He denied that the Democratic party had any label on him.

"But," he continued, "the attack on the Democratic party comes with bad grace after the demands made on the party for a federal investigation of the two great strikes have been granted. I propose to use every power possible—the church, business, legislature and congress—to forward the labor movement."

"Mr. McDonald has declared that he would rather vote for a wooden Indian or a yellow dog than Sam Gompers for president of the American Federation of Labor. That is his privilege, but I am perfectly willing to leave the future to judge between me and Mr. McDonald."

bined Christian Endeavor Societies of bernacle where a five weeks' religious

P. Nicholson. During the parade the been asked to look for the Princess Metchersky, a noted Russian dancer and beauty, missing for three days.

The princess left her apartment, telling her maid she was going to the bank. The maid has not been seen since.

Twenty Gypsies Die of Poison.

here from the town of Becerra, in Lugo province, says that twenty gypsies died in horrible agony as the result of eating poisoned meat which was intended for wolves which infest the district.

Anthony Sadaitys (top), a good looking, intelligent Polish boy of nineteen, in the court of general sessions, New York city, at the trial of Angelo Syl-vestro, who was convicted on the charge of having been one of a gang of Black Handers who set a bomb, told on the witness stand a story that rivaled the remarkable testimony given by Alfred Leiman, alias "Schmitty," another member of the gang of young criminals to whom murder, bomb planting, arson, abduction, burglary and horse stealing had been mere incidents in a day's work.
Young Sadaitys, who is known to the police as Burke, and who is a prisoner in the house of detention, was called by Assistant District Attorney Manly to establish that Giuseppe Farraro, who is known to the police as Joe Fay, and who is being sought as the leader of the most desperate gang of young criminals in the history of the city, had made and used for blackmail purposes stamps of leather, from which were printed threatening letters. Rocco Fucciarello, another confessed bomb thrower (below), also testified.

STRUCK ON HEAD; GIRL ROAMED ABOUT DAZED

Found Herself, Shoeless and Clothing Torn, in Woods.

South Bethlehem, Pa., Jan. 31.— Miss Mary Bierman, twenty-two years old, who has been missing since Wednesday night, told the police that on Wednesday evening she had left the school in Bethlehem, where she is employed, to go to her brother's home in South Bethlehem.

While crossing the old covered bridge on Main street across the Lehigh river, she passed a man, she said, who turned around and struck her with a club.

After that she says she remembers nothing until the next day, when she found herself in the woods near St.
Luke's hospital, a mile or two away, with both shoes off and her clothing torn. She was still so dazed that she was unable to find her way out of the woods all that day.

Miss Bierman can give no description of her assailant, but the police have started a thorough investigation of the affair.

Philadelphia, Jan. 31.—Fifteen Chi-crannies of the ship Chiswick, plying between Santiago, Cuba, and this port, when she passed up the river.

Waterbury, Conn., Jan. 31.—Christ-was removed to the Hotel Elton in suffering from pleurisy.

24 ARBITRATION PACTS FAVORED

Senate Committee Votes to Report Treaties.

NO CRISIS, SAYS WILSON

This Action Was Taken as the Result of a Conference With the President.

Washington, Jan. 31.—The senate foreign relations committee voted to recommend immediate ratification of general arbitration treaties with Great Britain, Japan and other nations, twenty-four treaties in all.

These treaties have been pending since last summer, when the original five-year limitations expired.

This is the first affirmative step taken as a result of the White House conference last Monday night, when the president and the committee discussed the many foreign complications confronting the United States and the president told the committee of the administration's views to bring a settlement of these various questions, particularly the Panama canal tolls, dispute with Great Britain and the California anti-alien land legislation.

The vote in favor of ratifying the treaties was 11 to 2, with four senators absent. Senator O'Gorman, Democrat, of New York, and William Alden Smith, Republican, of Michigan, voted in the negative.

Affirmative votes were cast by Senators Bacon, Stone, Shively, Hitchcock, Williams, Swanson, Pomeroy and Smith, of Arizona, Democrats; Lodge, Root and McCumber, Republicans; Clarke, of Arkansas; Borah, of Utah; and Burton, of Ohio, who favored the ratification of the treaties.

The treaty with France was renewed last year. Those pending are with China, Denmark, Great Britain, Italy, Japan, Mexico, Netherlands, Norway, Peru, Portugal, Salvador, Spain, Sweden, Switzerland, Austria-Hungary, Costa Rica, Haiti, Paraguay, Argentine Republic, Bolivia, Ecuador, Uruguay, Chile and Brazil.

The treaty with Great Britain had been held up because some feared its ratification might force arbitration at The Hague of the Panama canal tolls controversy. President Wilson's attitude on that question is generally understood to be that this provision is a violation of the Hay-Pauncefote treaty. Congress may settle the dispute either by repealing the free passage clause or suspending its operation, pending diplomatic negotiations.

The California alien land question was indirectly involved in the Japanese arbitration treaty, but the administration view that the controversy is practically at an end settled the minds of the majority of the committee, in so far as the general arbitration treaty with Japan was concerned.

President Wilson took pains to emphasize in an informal manner the friendly disposition of this government toward Japan, and to make it clear that Japan's attitude in regard to the Mexican situation had been scrupulously correct and was so recognized by the United States. He also let it be known that he considered no foreign question confronting this government presented a crisis.

MR. WILSON WANTS TO KNOW

Personally to Go Over Report in Jack Johnson Slush Fund Scandal.

Chicago, Jan. 31.—The findings of the federal grand jury, which has been investigating the scandal growing out of the flight of Jack Johnson, negro pugilist, and the disappearance of Sol Lewinson, a private banker and professional bondsman, will be taken direct to President Wilson instead of to a federal judge of this district.

Such action is unprecedented. Several prominent officials of the department of justice are involved in the charges that have been made before the grand jury of a $20,000 "slush fund," which enabled Johnson to flee the country after he had been convicted of violating the Mann white slave law.

To Vaccinate All Business Men. Altoona, Pa., Jan. 31.—The Bellwood board of health has decided that all the business men in the town and every employee of a business establishment must be vaccinated at once to prevent the further spread of smallpox. If they refuse they will be barred from their places of business until the present epidemic has subsided. As a result of the order the merchants and clerks are being vaccinated.

Alexander Moore Ill. New York, Jan. 31.—Mrs. Alexander Moore, better known as Lillian Russell, left here for Pittsburgh, being called there by the sudden and serious illness of her husband. An operation was performed for a growth on the neck, but it did not prevent Mr. Moore from telephoning his wife, requesting her presence.

Pennsylvania Shops Busy. Altoona, Pa., Jan. 31.—Hard times in most of the Pennsylvania railroad shops here ended when work began on 1000 new box cars, fifty passenger coaches and thirty-four big locomotives. This will keep the shops busy for nearly a year and other orders are to come shortly.

Varieties of Oaks. There are 55 oaks in the United States, about evenly divided between the east and the west. The eastern species, and particularly white oaks, are the most valuable.

FOUR IN CHAIN SAVE GIRLS

Two Break Through Ice and Father Fails in Rescue.

Wilkes-Barre, Pa., Jan. 31.—Four young men of Plains formed a human chain and rescued Mary Moses, fifteen years old, and Caroline McLuskie, aged fourteen, from the Susquehanna river after the girls had broken through the ice.

The links in the human chain were Harry Watkins, Benjamin Eckert, Joseph Taylor and Edward Tracks.

The girls were playing on the ice and broke through. John McLuskie, father of Caroline, was attracted by their cries and ran out on the ice to rescue them. As he grasped his daughter the ice again broke and the father went down with the girl.

Screams from women on the shore brought the young men to the river's edge. Watkins suggested a human chain, and the young men dropped on the ice, grasping each other by the feet.

They reached out and seized Caroline McLuskie, and after she was lifted to the ice the Moses girl was saved. John McLuskie had gotten from the water by this time and all were soon safe on shore.

HUERTA THREATENS TO 'FIRE' U. S. ENVOY

Will Hand Him Passports if Embargo on Arms is Lifted.

Mexico City, Jan. 31.—A high official of the Huerta government said:

"President Huerta is anxious to avoid all trouble with the United States, but if such an overt act in behalf of the enemies of the republic were to be performed by President Wilson as lifting the embargo on arms for the rebels, President Huerta naturally would resent it and very likely hand American Charge O'Shaughnessy his passports with deepest regret."

Huerta, it is declared, was dismayed at the action of the Japanese in sending a score of naval officers to Mexico City. The Japanese minister, Adachi, who is violently anti-American, brought the officers to Mexico City avowedly as a menace to the United States to influence a settlement of the California alien land controversy.

Adachi was advised this would be a bad move, especially for Mexico, but insisted on bringing them.

"It is hardly conceivable," said a diplomat, "that Adachi acted on instructions from Tokyo. Mexico invited the Japanese commander, as did the British, French and Spanish commanders, but this was mere formality which Adachi seized as an excuse to make a big display and give international importance to the visit."

Sir Lionel Carden, the British minister, confirms the announcement that he has been ordered to London to report on the outlook in Mexico. He is awaiting the arrival of T. S. Hobler, who is to take the post of charge d'affaires.

HUSBAND GETS $3000 ALIMONY

Also Custody of His Two Children and an Absolute Divorce.

Lima, O., Jan. 31.—Judge Klinger, of the common pleas court here, has caused a sensation by granting an absolute divorce to George Delmer, a contractor, giving him the custody of his two children and directing that his wife should pay him $3000 alimony.

In his decision the judge took the opportunity to rebuke Mrs. Delmer for being friendly with E. C. Moses, head telegraph operator of the Buckeye Pipe Line company.

Mrs. Delmer, who is wealthy, had brought the action for divorce. She charged cruelty and said that she had lost her love for her husband after he fell from a telephone pole and broke both his arms.

Delmer denied his wife's allegations of cruelty. He won the case after a trial lasting two weeks and then brought suit for divorce.

Vanderbilt Yacht Holds Out.

Colon, Jan. 31.—Frederick W. Vanderbilt's yacht Warrior, from which the owner and a number of distinguished guests were rescued early this week when she went ashore off the Colombian coast, is still holding out against the continued bawling of the heavy seas, according to wireless dispatches.

DO YOU

PLAY FAIR Mr. Storekeeper?

Of course you would resent any idea that you did not play fair with your customers. But do you play fair with the manufacturers who help you? Do you play fair with yourself? When a manufacturer places his advertising in the newspapers of your town and makes a market for you do you back him up?

Do you let the public know you have the goods? If not, why not? This is a line of questions you should ask yourself until you find a satisfactory answer.

The right answer will go far towards building your business and increasing your sales in 1914.

The dollar wagon is starting. Now is a good time to climb aboard!

ALONG THE HIGHWAYS

It's the Tramp That Can a Tale Unfold.

By M. QUAD

Copyright, 1913, by Associated Literary Press.

At 11 o'clock at night he stood leaning against a lamppost at an angle of forty-five degrees. Only a tramp could have maintained it a minute.

"Where I'm going to sleep tonight the devil only knows—right here, maybe, if this old lamppost don't get tuckered out."

"Say, this touring the country hasn't half bad. I wouldn't go so far as to recommend the heir to a million dollar estate to turn tramp, but at the same time I wish to say that enjoyable events are constantly happening in this profession. Perhaps the leading one is being suspected of murder. It has happened to me some five or six times, and I now look forward to it as a part and parcel of the season's program."

"There has been a murder committed in a city, a village or out in the country, and the murderer has got away. The first thing the police do, failing to find the guilty party within a few hours, is to lay the crime to tramps. Their own records would show them that the tramp class is more clear of capital crimes than almost any other, and yet the first instinct is to go for it. The call goes forth in city and village to round it up, and country constables for fifty miles around are warned to be on the lookout."

"I am plowing along a country highway or taking a nap under a tree beside the road when the heavy hand of the law is laid upon me. The constable may have five or six men at his back, all armed and all regarding me as a most desperate character. I am bound hand and foot. There is much rejoicing."

"The procession heads for the county jail and makes a triumphal entry into the town. 'If I have been captured for a murderer outside the county I am taken away after three or four days. If it is in the county I am kept in jail until the examination comes off."

"In the course of a week one of two things is sure to happen. The officers either get the right clew and I am set free or I am arraigned for examination. In the former case the sheriff comes to my cell and calls out: 'Here, you miserable old tramp, get out of this!'"

"What for?"

"Because I say so. You are discharged from custody. Why in the devil didn't you say you weren't guilty?"

"But I did."

"Don't lie to me! Get out of this jail. People are calling me the biggest ass in the state. Get a hump on yourself!"

"Let me tell you that the dilapidated gentleman reasoned things out long ago. He is no more a criminal by instinct than any other man. He doesn't want to lose his life or liberty. He is too greedy for gain. Not a tramp in ten would quit the road if he got a legacy of $5,000. Give him sufficient for today and the morrow may go hang. He may hit back if you hit him, but he has no cause to want to murder any one. He may steal to assuage hunger, but not for profit. Now and then you hear of some tramp robbing a farmhouse. He is either drunk or a fool. No pawnbroker will take anything from him because he is a tramp. No person will buy any of his plunder for fear of being compromised. The tramp with sense in his head knows this, and if a dozen farmhouses were open to him there would be no temptation."

"Suppose that a tramp stole $25 in cash from a house. If he struck a town and went to buy a suit of clothes he'd be suspected. If he even bought a new hat or a new pair of shoes it might be made the grounds for his arrest. How would it profit him, then, to take the money?"

"I have worked for a farmer for six weeks on a stretch and taken the road with $20 in my pocket. I have been arrested a day later and had to send for him to prove that I wasn't a thief. If I had a ten dollar bill in my pocket I might walk 200 miles and not find anybody to change it for me. I once found a twenty dollar bill on the streets of a town. I carried that bill with me for four months and then at last gave a tin peddler $2 premium to change it. He felt sure that I had stolen it, but he decided to take chances."

"Three years ago in Connecticut a farmer's barn was robbed of fifty bushels of oats one night. His own bags were used to sack them up. The tramp used to draw them away was followed for six miles. I was within ten miles of the site of the robbery that night and next day I was arrested as the robber. I was held in jail for a week before being examined to allow of the sheriff working up the case, but when things finally came to a head you ought to have heard the justice score him. He was a man of sense, he was, and he made the sheriff out a born fool within ten minutes. If I stole the oats I must have stolen a team to draw them away. Who had lost a team? It would have taken two men to sack and load the oats. Where was the other man?"

"Oh, yes, there are events in the life of every dilapidated gentleman on the road, and the moral lesson to be drawn from most of them is in his favor. He steals less lying than any salesman, less dealing than confidential clerks, and, as for immorality, your millionaire is convicted of it oftener than your tramp."

Our Way.

We all of us come home to bed quite cheerfully as long as we know we're at liberty to stay out all night—excepting.
